GK Safety has extensive experience in both training and consultancy, in first aid and occupational health and safety. This experience has been gained whilst working closely with some major companies and organisations within the United Kingdom . GK Safety's founder started off working for the Health and Safety Executive before leaving to become a private consultant and has over 12 years experience of working in occupational safety and health. He has delivered training or consultancy for some of the largest and most prestigious companies in the united kingdom , including the Health and Safety Executive (HSE), Microsoft, Dell computers, Price Waterhouse Coopers, Anderson Consulting, the Ministry of Justice (Court Service) and several Local Authorities.

We pride ourselves on being able to provide a highly professional service in all aspects of first aid and occupational health and safety and can provide services in almost any suitable venue anywhere in the UK .

We use professional tutors & consultants across the UK which means that we are able to provide our services where it is needed most. It also means that we can provide short notice services to suit our clients.

If you have a commitment to safety like ourselves, contact us and we can work together to improve your organisations occupational health and safety.
